NOE'S ITALIAN Magnet Air Electric, HAIR LIFE.

LADIES and Gentlemen, if you desire to have your hair a beautiful Black or Brown, of a natural color, you can attain this result by using this Chemical Medical Preparation. It is got up with great skill and care, and has no similarity to any other article now before the public. You are not troubled with washing the head or whiskers. The application is accomplished in a moment's time, and warranted not to injure the hair or skin. It is warranted to give the hair of the head and beard a soft, glossy, and healthy appearance, and to prevent the hair from falling out, and to cure Dandruff and Scald, to soften and gloss the Hair and Whiskers, it never fails to do after the third application. In every case where it fails the money will be refunded without equivocation.

A few Medical and Vegetable Ingredients Compound the Hair Resuscitative Hair Life. The inventor has had years' experience in it. The Hair Resuscitative Hair Life is the best and cheapest article of the kind in the market, and the only one without humbug. It was applied during the past five months, partly for ladies, and in all for about 5000 persons, and has never failed in a single case.

TESTIMONY

Thos. Rich, Notary Public, Nos. 113, 114 and 115 South Water st., Phila. Pa. Cap. of the City of Phila. Pa. C. G. Dodge, No. 102 Westminister st., Perry W. Greene, No. 3 Maple st., J. C. Parini, No. 30 Sheldon st., Benj. F. Gilmore, No. 229 Westminister at Providence, R. I. J. L. Anthony, Westport, Mass., M. Mori and J. Rogers, No. 77 Tremont st., Hartford, Conn.; John Lee, No. 19 Danvers st., New York; Peter Nelson, No. 33 State st., Charleston, S. C.; Isaac L. Murphy, C. Union, Mass.

If you wish more testimony, inquire of the public. The Hair Resuscitative Hair Life is for sale by H. H. Harrington, 41 North Main st., J. Balch & Son, 42 South Main st., Providence; R. J. Taylor 101 Thomas St. New York; and by Druggists everywhere, at Wholesale or Retail. Retail price 75c per bottle. Each bottle is labeled with full directions for use, and for mark, the Proprietor's Photograph.

Apply for a liberal discount made to the trade. Applied and for sale, Wholesale and Retail, at the Proprietor's store, L. J. NOE, No. 9 Orange st., opposite Middle st., Providence R. I.

Directions for Use:—Pour a small quantity of the liquid into a saucer, and with a stiff brush saturate the hair well with the Hair Resuscitative, dividing it with a clean comb, so that it may get well down to the roots; after this has been thoroughly done, take a cloth wet with any kind of clean water, and wipe the skin all around the edges of the hair, and expose the head and Whiskers to the air as much as possible. You can repeat the application after twenty-four hours, and the third application is seldom required. You can use Oil or Pomade on your Hair or Whiskers, if you wish, as they will not injure the Hair Life.

Hotels.

UNION HALL,

SARATOGA SPRINGS, NEW YORK.

This well known Hotel, pleasantly located on the west side of Broadway, and opposite the celebrated CONGRESS SPRINGS,

OPENS FOR VISITORS,
June 16th, for the Season.

By the addition, just finished, of a handsome 4 block building, two hundred and forty-one feet long, by fifty-five feet wide, and five stories high. It is much the largest Hotel in the place, having a front of over ONE THOUSAND FEET, and CAN ACCOMMODATE OVER ONE THOUSAND GUESTS.

THE DINING HALL, KITCHEN, AND LAUNDRY are unsurpassed in this country, in extent and completeness, and probably in the world.

The Court, inclosed by the main building and ten tiny cottages, forms a lawn of several acres in extent, intersected with shaded walks. A fine band of music belonging to the house will be in attendance during the season.

Carriage-houses are also attached to the premises, affording every facility for forwarding for the accommodation of guests.

The management of Union Hall, we trust, will meet with the approval of all who honor us with their patronage.

ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL,

Broadway, New York.

WHEN COMPLETED, this elegant hotel, St. Nicholas was universally acknowledged the most magnificent, convenient, and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent. What it was then it remains to-day—without a rival in size, in completeness, and in the general elements of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,000 guests, including 100 complete suites of apartments for families. Six hundred persons can be comfortably seated at the tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and social gratification of the traveling public has been omitted in its plan, or neglected in its practical details. The early reputation of the house at home and abroad, derived from its magnificence, its superb appointments, and its house-like comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unvaried excellence of the management.

Cleanse the System, Purify the Blood.

The best Spring and Summer Medicine in the World is

ROOT AND HERB BITTERS,

Compound of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease.

These Bitters continue to be the most standard, popular and reliable medicine ever discovered for the cure of Liver Complaints and all their attendant; Jaundice in its worst forms; Humors, whether of blood or skin; all Bilious Disorders such as Piles, Stomach, Dyspepsia, Constipation; Female Weakness, and every disease arising from Indigestion, or sedentary habits of life; Headache, Dizziness; Piles; Heartburn; Pains in the Side, Bowels, or Back; Flatulency; Loss of Appetite, and every kindred complaint arising from Impurities of the Blood, Disordered Liver, or Disordered Stomach, to which every person is more or less subject in this climate.

The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing it to course anew through every part of the body; restoring the invalid to health and usefulness.

Only 25 and 35 cents per bottle. Sold by Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

SECOND DAY.

THURSDAY MORNING, Aug. 2.

(Before commencing our report, we call attention to a collection of minerals of rare value, on sale in the lower part of the State House. They are the property of Mr. Charles W. Merriam, a gentleman abundantly qualified to judge of such matters, and peculiarly worthy of patronage.) The records of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Dr. Loomis moved that the Standing Committee be directed to consider some permanent form of contracting with Railroads, for passage of Members to and from their annual sessions.

Voted to separate into Sections. The following gentlemen were elected Associate Members: Ames D. Smith, of Providence, Rev. Dr. A. H. Dumont, of Newport, and Hon. Lucius E. Chittenden, of Burlington, Vt.

The following gentlemen were elected members: Dr. T. C. Dunn, of Newport, Prof. E. C. Johnson, Nashville, Tenn., Mr. Isaac Bradford of Cambridge.

It was announced that Prof. Baché would speak in Aquidneck Hall on Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, upon the Gulf Stream. The section at this point separated.

SECTION A.

A vacancy in the standing Committee was filled by electing Prof. Chauvenet of St. Louis.

Prof. Baché was elected Chairman of the day.

Prof. W. A. Norton read a paper upon "Theoretical Determination of Dimensions of Donati's Comet."

At the conclusion of Prof. Norton's reading, Dr. Gould, Vice President, asked of the Professor sundry questions, to which Prof. Norton replied. Prof. Charles W. Hackley, of New York, also asked several questions, which were answered.

Prof. Cookley, of Hagerstown, Md., also gave a brief account of his labors upon a kindred subject.

B. F. Harmon, of Wallingford, Conn., read a paper "upon the Solution of Ice in Iceland Water." In this paper Mr. Harmon gave a history of a course of experiments, from which he deduced the theory that one of the most important sources of heat by which ice on such waters is melted, is from below. The theory was briefly discussed by Lieut. Hunt and others.

Prof. Loomis read—"on Natural Ice-Houses, and on Frozen Wells." This paper called forth a lengthy discussion, by Prof. Hitchcock and others, who considered that Prof. Loomis' theory was insufficient to account for all the phenomena connected with these ice-houses and wells.

SECTION A.

4 1-2 P. M.

Prof. W. B. Rogers read—"A Description of a new Registering Thermometer" by James Lewis, of Mohawk. This instrument is somewhat complicated in its structure. In general, it consists of a collection of rods, so arranged as to add together the elongations or shortenings produced upon each, by the variations of temperature. This sum of variations is further multiplied by ingenious mechanical contrivances of levers and pulleys. This final variation, is communicated to a pointer, which by means of clock work, is forced at regular intervals of time into a paper register. The instrument is found to be far more sensitive than those of mercury.

Prof. John Leconte read—"on the Phenomena presented by the 'Seven Springs' in Marion County, Florida." The Prof. gave an account of his visits to this Spring, and also many of its characteristics. The amount of water which runs therefrom is sufficient for Steamboat navigation. But the chief point dwelt upon, was its remarkable transparency.

Prof. Horsford read—"on the sudden cooling of one part of a Metallic Rod cause another part, as a consequence, suddenly to become warm?" The Prof. detailed at length in a lucid manner the experiments by which he proved satisfactorily the negative of the question, and also established the organ of the common opinion, in favor of the affirmative. This paper was also very finely read, to the great satisfaction of the listeners.

"Improvement in Barometers"—read by H. A. Clum—closed the list of papers. The last speaker was questioned by a member of the Association somewhat closely, after he had finished his explanation of Barometer, which he claimed and explained, as containing improvements. This discussion was brought to a close, in not a remarkably pleasant manner. This closed the proceedings for the day.

SECTION B.

THURSDAY MORNING, Aug.

Col. J. W. Foster, Chairman,

Mr. C. H. Hitchcock read a paper going to show that the coal formations of Massachusetts and Rhode Island were synchronous; that is, were deposited in the same geological period with those in Pennsylvania and the great western coal basins of the United States. His views were dissented from by Dr. Newberry, Government Geologist, Prof. Wm. B. Rogers, and Prof. Agassiz. Prof. A. showed that the organic remains in localities near together were quite dissimilar. He favored the idea that our carboniferous strata, or coal formations, were the result of a great number of deposits, extending over vast periods of time. In illustration, he stated that some of the Florida coral reefs, though but 60 or 70 feet in thickness, yet their organic remains showed that they had been in process of formation for a period long before man was created.

Prof. E. Hitchcock presented some recently discovered specimens of fossil elatroris (ferns) from East Hampton, giving additional confirmation to European discoveries.

Prof. E. Hitchcock also exhibited a very curious quartz boulder from Central Michigan, which presented a remarkable serrated division through its centre. No one present seemed to be able to account for the formation. Prof. Agassiz proposed to examine the general structure of the specimen by the use of the hammer.

From Dr. Christopher Johnston, of Baltimore, an interesting paper was presented by D. Morris on the Diatomaceous earths (tridipoli) of Nottingham County, Md., which was remarked upon by Professors Rogers, Agassiz, and others.

Prof. Edward Hitchcock, (late President of Amherst College) read a description of the Cretaceous trachytic Dykes in Sherburne, Vt., describing them as rocks projecting upward several feet, the surrounding rock having apparently been worn or washed away. These rocks presented the remarkable structure of an outer shell of trachyte or melted rock, filled within with breccia or broken fragments of rock cemented together. These consisted of various kinds of rocks in the neighborhood, including, also, the Utica limestone. How, he inquired, were these rocks formed? How could the outside be melted without driving off the carbonic acid within? He suggested that the deposit may have been washed into a fissure at the bottom of the ocean, and then melted on the outside, by volcanic heat. This favored the idea that trap rock may be found at low heat in connection with water. To this it was objected that the heat would dissipate the water in steam. But the objection was answered by the interesting statement that under the pressure of the water at great depth in the sea, water could be heated and thus prevent evaporation.

The Trap rocks of Lake Superior, their origin and stratigraphical relations were discussed in a lengthy and able paper, presented by J. D. Whitney, prepared by Col. J. W. Foster and himself. This was followed by a general discussion of several points suggested by the paper read, and at 1-2 o'clock this section took a recess until the evening session.

SECTION B.

AFTERNOON SESSION—4 1-2 o'clock.

The first business was the appointment of a branch of the Standing Committee for this Section, consisting of Dr. R. W. Gibbs, Prof. Dm. C. Wilson, Mr. A. H. Worthen, and Dr. J. H. Gibbon.

Dr. Morris, of Baltimore, was chosen Chairman of Section B, for to-day, (Friday.) Prof. Wm. B. Rogers read a paper on the recent discovery of Fossils in the conglomerate of Taunton river. With a single exception we have had no data to establish the geological period of much of the formation of Rhode Island and Massachusetts. We are now on track of data. For this we are indebted to the keen eye of Mr. Norman Eastop, of Fall River. He picked up, in the street, a small, broken stone having shell-marks. From this hint he proceeded to look over the boulders and rocks in the neighborhood.

As the result, Prof. Rogers exhibited a number of beautiful shell-marked stones, which promise to lead to the location of our rocks in their proper place in the geological series. Prof. R. expressed the highest pleasure in giving credit to the observation and perseverance of the amateur geologist, Mr. Eastop. Prof. R. was thankful for this discovery, not only as a geologist, but also because he hoped Mr. Eastop was only one of a great number of observers in geology who will come forth to aid in the promotion of this interesting and useful science.

A most pleasing and familiar conversation here arose on the part of Agassiz, Rogers, the Chairman, and other savans. Col. Foster believed that notwithstanding all that has been done, the geological survey of New England is yet to be made. Prof. Rogers referred to the fact that the organic remains found here, and those away off in Bohemia, on the other side of the Atlantic, show the identity of their geological period.

Geology of the Eastern Part of MAINE.—Prof. W. B. Rogers gave "jottings" made during the last summer. He exhibited numerous specimens of rocks containing botanic fossil remains, which were examined and discussed by the members.

Dr. Newberry, U. S. geologist, discussed at some length the History of the stratified rocks of North America, and is to continue the same subject to-day. After further remarks by Prof. Blake and others, the session adjourned.

PROGRAMME FOR TO-DAY, (FRIDAY.)

SECTION A.

Papers to be Read.

Prof. Henry's Address.

Prof. Henry, of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, delivered an interesting address before the Association last evening, at Aquidneck Hall, giving some new theories and discoveries in reference to the electricity of the atmosphere, which are quite at variance with the popular notions derived from school books. We regret want of space to report the lecture fully. Three beautiful paintings illustrated the subject admirably.

LOCAL ITEMS.

SENATOR DOUGLAS ARRIVES IN CITY last night, at about 8 o'clock. Shortly after seated in a barouche drawn by four white horses, escorted by the Mechanic Rifle Company, and the American and Shepard's Bands, all of Providence, he passed through the streets to TOYON PARK.

In the park there was erected an illuminated, colored transparency, bearing the words "Welcome Douglas." A stage was also erected and tastefully decorated, upon which Senator Douglas, Mayor Clannett, and several prominent citizens took seats.

Mayor Clannett then addressed Mr. Douglas in substance, as follows: "SENATOR DOUGLAS: In behalf of my fellow citizens, I welcome you to Newport. As you have for months past occupied a prominent position before the Nation, and are now doing so, your visit to this beautiful city is rendered on that account interesting to our citizens. Rhode Island, Sir, has ever been a people loving law, and under all circumstances will be found, let whoever may be President, true to the Constitution. Again I bid you welcome."

Mr. Douglas replied: Mr. Mayor, I return you my hearty thanks for this warm welcome. I come among you not as a politician. I would not introduce into this circle of people formed for the purpose of recreating themselves, any disturbing cause, and hope to leave politics behind me while I remain in your beautiful island, again I tender you my profound thanks for your warm welcome."

Mr. Douglas then retired to the Atlantic House, and the proceedings closed amid rejoicings from the "unintended."

LAUNCH OF THE BRIG REDWOOD.—Yesterday morning at half past 8 o'clock, was launched the new brig Redwood from the ship-yard of the Messrs. Grandall. The launch was witnessed by about five hundred persons, among whom were a large number of ladies. The brig was gallantly decorated with flags—the American Jack at the bow, the brig's private signal, with the letters "S. T. M." (the initials of the Captain's name) at the stern, a burgee with the vessel's name at the Mast, and the American ensign waving from the stern. On a given signal from the huller the last clock was knocked away, and the Redwood glided majestically into the blue waters amid the cheers of the assembled multitude, adapting herself to her new element with the ease and grace of a ball room belle. The Redwood is 195 tons register, built of the best of material and in the most substantial manner, and is to be run in the Cuban trade, under the command of Captain Samuel T. Merrill. She is owned by the latter gentleman and Henry Ball, Esq.

After the launch, the brig was towed down to Peckham & Bull's wharf, where a collation was served up to a number of invited guests comprising many of the vessels, in port, and several landmen.

Representatives of the Press.

At the session of the Scientific Association yesterday, the following gentlemen were present: John Lockwood, N. Y. Evening Post; William Swinton, N. Y. Daily Times; Orange Judd, N. Y. Agriculturalist; W. W. Shore, N. Y. World; Chas. E. Wilbur, N. Y. Tribune; Chas. S. Shannahan, N. Y. Herald; C. C. Coffin, Boston Journal; T. C. Wilson, Boston Post; Chas. A. Chase, Boston Advertiser; Chas. P. Gosson, Boston Atlas; T. W. Wood, Newport News; Geo. W. Colman, New Haven Journal; Geo. T. Hammond, Newport News.

Voice from the News Boys.

Price 50 cents, in cloth; 75 cents, gilt. Master Johnny Morron excites a kindly interest in his behalf wherever he meets those who feel for manly effort. He has "written a book," and is striving by selling it to support a family of orphan brothers and sisters, and also to procure for himself an education. Can any one refuse his gentle offers of sale? We need not. Read what John Langdon Sibley, Librarian of Cambridge College writes: "Dear Johnny—It does one's heart good to see you toil on so patiently, meekly and pleasantly. It is doing more to make you a man and a Christian than to have been surrounded with the luxuries of palace. Tell on my brave boy! God keeps them that keep themselves." Where Holmes, Longfellow, Beecher and Huntington read, it must be right to follow. The books can be had for a few days at the City Music Store, 83 Thames Street, and from the author, who may be soon selling them in the street.

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR DOORS AND WINDOWS.—Last night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, all the windows of the house 126 Thames Street, fronting on Cotton's Court, were tried violently, by some with an intention to enter, the male occupant being absent at his place of business. There are evidently rogues in town, and people should look out.

The Boston Daily Advertiser is for sale by D. J. Tilley, 128 and 130 Thames Street. Yesterday's paper begins the full report of the Scientific Convention.

The Prince of Wales' Reception at Halifax—Regatta, Levee, &c.—Further Movements of the Prince.

HALIFAX, Aug. 2.—The ball last night in honor of the Prince of Wales, was a success. The Prince was present and danced with several ladies. The Prince has been about town in plain clothes, having started out early in the morning. Among the places that he visited was the ruins on the farm which belonged to the Duke of Kent, his grandfather, three miles from the city.

The weather to-day is fine, and the grand regatta was an interesting affair. Yachts, fishing vessels, man-of-war boats, whalers, and canoes participated. There were also horse races on the Common.

The Prince had a reception and levee at noon. This evening the Governor entertains the Volunteer officers.

The Prince leaves Halifax to-morrow noon for Windsor, thence to New Brunswick. An escort of artillery and rifles precede him.

Everything has passed off without any serious accident, and the celebration is universally admitted by visitors and natives to be a credit to the Province of Nova Scotia.

In Charlottetown, Mass., the authorities have decided, by the casting vote of the Mayor, to prohibit the running of horse-races on Sunday.

Why are young ladies at the breaking up of a party, like arrows? Because they can't go off without a beau, and are in a quiver till they get one.

The Salem (Mass.) Register says that four sharks, upwards of five and a half feet in length, have been captured within a few days, in Forest River, about the Lead Mills.

A good summer storm is a rain of riches. If gold and silver rained down from the clouds, they would hardly enrich the land, so much as soil, long rains. Every drop is silver going to the mint. The roots are machinery, and catching the willing drops, they essay them, refine them, roll them, stamp them, and turn them out coin, berries, apples, grains and grasses. All the mountains of California are not so rich as the soft mines of Heaven.

The Saratogian says that a lad, only five years old, residing in Argyle, Washington Co., N. Y., a few days since, took into his head to go and see the Great Eastern. So he took the cars, went down and saw the big ship, and returned home the same way as he went, and all without a cent of money. His return was much to the relief of his anxious parents, who searched in vain for him for several days. Incredible as this may seem, it is told as a fact.

A most horrible tragedy has been brought to light in one of the interior counties of England. A child of only five years was in the night taken from its crib, murdered and its body thrown into a cistern adjoining the house, no one in the house having been, apparently, disturbed by the occurrence. A dog kept near the cistern did not bark, nor has any clue been found to the perpetrators of the terrible crime, though the papers are of opinion that it must have been done by some one within the premises.

A new red coloring matter, called "fashine," has been produced, which is quite equal in splendor to cochineal, and has already been brought into use to a considerable extent. The coloring matter of leaves has been shown lately not to be simply green, but a combination of blue and yellow, to which in the autumn is in some instances added a red color; the change in the color of leaves during the latter part of summer is due to the change in the proportions of these simple colors. A new black, which can take the place of ivory black, is now prepared from hoghead canal coal. The coal is first calcined, in order to expel the gas which it contains in considerable quantity, and it is then ground and screened. It is stated that the black obtained in this manner can be used instead of animal charcoal, in sugar refineries, for disinfecting, for printing ink, and for other purposes.

Why is the letter s like a sewing-machine?—Because it makes needles needless.

Never meet trouble half-way, but let him have the whole walk for his pains. Very likely he may give up his visit in sight of the house.

A common arm-chair is a more comfortable seat than a throne, and a soft heater hat a lighter and more pleasant piece of head-gear than a crown.

The only things that England has been able to import from Japan, have been the little clay gods, proving that, in the endeavor to establish a commerce with that country, all her efforts have been idle.

When Sheridan was asked at an amateur play which performer he liked best, he replied, "The prompter; for I saw less and heard more of him than of any one else."

The following is an alarming evidence of the progress of the photographic art:—A lady last week, had her likeness taken by a photographer; and he executed it so well that her husband prefers it to the original.

A gentleman coming into the room of the late Dr. Barton, told him that Mr. Vowel was dead. "What," said he, "Vowel dead?" Let us be thankful it was neither a or i.

The Irish jaunting-car, in which the passengers sit back to back, is a sort of type of what befalls many tourists. Each sees a great deal, and reports faithfully what he has seen, one on one side of the road and the other on the other.

Some years ago, a letter, directed to "Zrum-fidavi," was received at the London post office. Unable to find such a person, it was referred to the agents, who found out at last that it was intended for Sir Humphrey Davy, the great chemist.

Seventy-five ladies of the highest rank, from the still beautiful Duchess of Sutherland downward, have, like the Maccabees of old, "bound themselves by a strong vow," not to shop on Saturdays after two o'clock; and many others will follow the example.—Leader.

Here's your money, dell, and now tell me why your rascally master wrote me eighteen letters about that contemptible sum." "I'm sure I can't tell, but, if you'll excuse me, sir, I guess it was because ser-outen didn't fetch it."

The poorest are not unfrequently the happiest. A Sultan, who, as a cure for low spirits, was directed by his physician to wear the shirt of the happiest man in his domains, selected a gay and reckless fellow, but, on stripping him for his shirt found he didn't wear one.

The Savannah, Ga., News says, a tiger shark was captured in the harbor of Savannah last week, and on opening it, the atom, each was found to contain four king crabs the largest of which measured 11 inches in width, with the shells unbroken—showing the immense capacity of its thorax and maw—a lot of large bones, several pieces of salt beef, some lumps of clay and a leather boot.

Many of the satirical aspersions cast upon old maids tell more to their credit than is generally imagined. Is a woman remarkably neat in her person, "she will certainly die an old maid." Is she frugal in her expenses and exact in her domestic concerns, "she is out out for an old maid." And if she is kind and humane to the animals about her, nothing can save her from the appellation of "old maid." In short, we have always found that neatness, modesty, economy and humanity are the never failing characteristics of an "old maid."

A singular case of a physician poisoning himself occurred a few nights ago in Troy. He was attacked with illness, and supposing he was about to have an attack of colic, he took a bottle from his pocket, in the dark, containing, as he thought, cholera mixture, and drank of it. He discovered, however, that it was laudanum, and being alone, he started for a hotel, some distance off, which, it being late, he thought to find open, when he could give directions for his treatment. But he fell to the pavement in a stupor before reaching this hotel. A couple of policemen found him in that condition, and had him cared for. By violent shaking and changes of position he was restored to consciousness, and escaped death.

The Rev. Mr. Spurgeon writes from Baden Baden to the British Standard. Describing the late interview between the Emperor Napoleon and the German princes, he stops to express his "gratitude." He says—"On Saturday, the Emperor might be seen early in the morning, walking in the garden, leaning upon his walking stick, and looking more decrepit than his age might justify. It is a theme for great gratitude that he is not a young man, and that he has ambition what it may, he has no great time before him in which to work out his political adventures. On horse-back or in his carriage, all men confess his noble bearing, and no signs of decay are manifest; but, when he is walking, the spectator foresees that the greatest of men are mortal."

Two Irishmen in the Melbourne, Australia gold fields have lately had a lot of good luck. One picked up a lump of gold weighing six hundred, and the other a nugget weighing two hundred ounces.

The Norwich Bulletin says that in Voler a steady citizen, over, whose house the meteor passed, "smelt the war," and was so alarmed that the boys should be allowed to play such pranks with
